GREEKS AND BULGARS LOCKED IN COMBAT

BATTLE SCENE IS NEAR THE RIM OF MACEDONIAN AREA

Meantime Diplomats at Sofia and Athens Were Reported as Frantically Trying to Stem the Warlike Spirit Inflaming the People

Apprehension Lest the Present Troubles Spread Through the Balkan "Powder Keg" When Europe is Dreaming of Peace as Result of Locarno Treaties

Greek and Bulgar are locked in combat near the rim of Macedonia and reports out of the Balkans today say that numerous casualties have already occurred.

A Sofia United Press message recounted that the Bulgarian cabinet was called to meet tonight to decide whether Bulgaria should declare war on Greece.

Meantime diplomats at Sofia and Athens were reported frantically trying to stem the war spirit. But neither nation had even answered the other's sharp demands, arising from what the Greeks call a Bulgarian invasion of Macedonia and the Bulgars call the Greek invasion of their territory.

No report of League of Nations action to consider the situation has come up to early afternoon.

The Bulgar village of Coula was occupied by the Greeks following their taking of Pzritsi yesterday and fighting was in full swing when the cablegrams were filed.

Bulgaria, thinking of declaring war, is ill equipped to wage it since her armament is practically nonexistent as a result of the allied conditions imposed upon her.

However, London messages said that there was a great deal of anxiety, lest the present troubles spread through the Balkan "powder keg" at a time when Europe was dreaming of peace as a result of the Locarno safety agreements.

GREEK AIRPLANES ARE RECONNOITERING

By ANTHONY PAPAYANNAKIS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Athens, Oct. 22.—Greek troops, according to information given the United Press correspondent today, proposed to attack during the forenoon Bulgarian forces still occupying a portion of Greek territory in the vicinity of Demirhisar in northern Macedonia.

Greek airplanes early today were reconnoitering over the Bulgarian positions as the time limit of Greece's ultimatum to Bulgaria drew toward a close.

At this writing the situation appeared unclear but it contains elements which may lead to complications in the Balkans, the ancient trouble spot of Europe.

The reported occupation by Greek forces of the Petritsi district was confirmed today. This move was undertaken by the Greeks in order to enforce their demands for reparations, in connection with Bulgarian Comitadjis' raids upon Demirhisar and their occupation of that region.

BULGARIA TO PROTEST TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Vienna, Oct. 22.—Sofia advices today said the Bulgarian cabinet had decided to protest to the League of Nations against what it terms the Greek invasion of the Petritsi district and to appeal to the Allies to permit Bulgaria to mobilize sufficiently to defend her sovereignty.

GREEK FORCES INVADE BULGARIA

By ROBERT H. BEST (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Vienna, Oct. 22.—Greek forces have invaded Bulgaria, capturing two villages. Machine guns were employed and many casualties are reported on both sides.

Small cannon was being rushed up to the frontier this morning. The above word from Sofia was coupled with further reports that the British, French, Jugo-Slavian and other ministers were frantically endeavoring to stem the war spirit of Sofia and Athens.

Neither nation has answered the other's notes on the border situation.

FIGHTING IS ON IN FULL SWING

By ANTHONY PAPAYANNAKIS (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Athens, Oct. 22.—Fighting is in full swing between the Greeks and Bulgarians.

Having occupied Petritsi yesterday, the Greeks followed this up today by occupying the Bulgarian village of Coula, fighting ensued and is now progressing.

The double occupations are part of the Greek course of compelling Bulgaria to end the alleged raiding of Macedonia by guerrilla warriors known as Comitadjis.

WAR DECLARATION IS CONSIDERED BY BULGARIA

Sofia, Oct. 22.—A special cabinet meeting has been called for tonight to decide whether Bulgaria shall declare war on Greece.

A Greek invasion was reported here to have advanced this afternoon into Bulgaria over a 40 mile front, opening artillery attacks on three frontier posts.

Many shells were reported to have fallen at Petritsi, eight miles from the frontier.

(This is the town the Greeks claimed to have occupied yesterday).

JUGO-SLAVIA IS CONCENTRATING TROOPS

Vienna, Oct. 22.—Jugo-Slavia is rushing concentration of her troops, as a "precautionary measure" in view of the fighting between Bulgaria and Greece, according to Belgrade advices today.

Troop concentration in Jugo-Slavia has been under way for a week but has suddenly been increased with a rush, the dispatches added.

GREEK BONDS FALL FOLLOWING WAR SCARE

New York, Oct. 22.—The Greek government seven per cent bonds listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell three-quarters of a point to 88 following news of trouble between Greece and Bulgaria. The Bulgarian government has no obligations listed on the local market.

LASTING PEACE BETWEEN FRANCE AND GERMANY

CAN COME WHEN AN ECONOMIC BASIS IS FOUND IN EUROPE

FORMER CHANCELLOR WIRTH OF GERMANY MAKES STATEMENT

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 22.—(UP)—"Permanent peace between France and Germany can come when an economic basis is found in Europe," Joseph Karl Wirth, former chancellor of Germany, declared today while visiting here with a delegation of members from the German Reichstag. Wirth declared that Germany is in accord with the ideals and character of President Coolidge and compliments the chief executive upon his Omaha address before the American Legion.

"Germany admires President Coolidge's far-sighted spirit and favorable character. I read his Omaha speech and wish to say Germany will do all possible to foster the ideals expressed in that address."

When asked whether the majority of the German people are for the republic, he said:

"The German republic cannot be overthrown by force. No force can overthrow our new state. President Hindenburg is a great man and a great soldier. He has taken the oath of the republic and will stand by his word. I think the majority of the people in Germany are for a republic."

In speaking of the Locarno pact, Wirth said he believed it the most important step that Germany has taken in 50 years.

TEN ARMED BANDITS STEAL CHICAGO THOUSANDS

ROBBED 3 FEDERAL RESERVE BANK MESSENGERS OF MAIL POUCHES

OCCURRED AT HEART OF THE CITY'S FINANCIAL DISTRICT

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Ten armed bandits early today robbed three federal reserve bank messengers of two mail pouches supposed to contain currency, as they were wheeling the parcels in a pushcart to the bank. James B. McDougal, governor of the bank, said he felt the loss was small while other officials estimated the loot at "some thousands of dollars."

Not until a check up is made later will the exact amount be known. The messengers had secured the packages from an express company's office at 1 A. M. and were passing Quincy and LaSalle streets, heart of the financial district, when ten men drove up in two automobiles, covered them with revolvers and shot guns and demanded the packages.

C. R. Nordell, one of the messengers, drew a revolver, but it was knocked from his hand by a blow from one of the bandits.

The bandits scooped up the loot and drove off, their escape aided by a baby bluff which hid the license numbers of their cars.

Got Cancelled Checks

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The 10 bandits who early today robbed three federal reserve bank messengers of two mail pouches and an American Express Company parcel, got little more than a lot of valueless mail, James B. McDougal, governor of the bank, declared after a check up.

"The loot consisted of some ordinary mail and a parcel of cancelled checks," McDougal said. "By the looks of things the robbers got a wrong tip."

No trace of the men has been found, police said.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 22.—(UP)—The word "obey" heretofore spoken by brides in the Protestant Episcopal marriage ceremony, has been definitely eliminated by a 66 to 27 vote of the house of bishops of the church. In eliminating the word "obey" the bishops also struck out of the bridegroom's promise of "with all my worldly goods I thee endow." Although the bishops conceded women the victory in the matter of eliminating the word "obey" they declined to approve a proposal passed by the house of deputies that women might take seats in the lower house.

1 DEAD, 1 HURT IN SNOW STORM IN MICHIGAN

LAD OF 14 LOST IN STORM AND FOUND FROZEN TO DEATH

COMPANION BELIEVED MENTALLY DERANGED FROM EXPOSURE

Negaunee, Mich., Oct. 22.—(UP)—One dead and another seriously frozen is the toll of the severe snow storm which swept this section of the state the first of the week.

Waimo Maiki, 14, with four other boys, became lost in the storm and was found frozen to death, while Almo Johnson, 17, his hands and feet frozen and nearly crazed by the cold wandered into a farm house. The other three boys had made their way to their homes late on Sunday after the storm had struck.

The five boys had gone into the woods Sunday noon and were playing about an abandoned camp, when the storm started. The blizzard soon raged with such fury that they lost their way and became separated.

The Maiki boy apparently became exhausted and was found by searchers lying under a tree where he had sought protection from the biting wind and heavy snowfall.

When the three boys reached their homes late in the afternoon a searching party was immediately organized and not until yesterday were the two found, one dead and the other believed to be mentally deranged as the result of his exposure.

Both boys were thinly clad and without matches, pocket knives or weapons.

Clark has been associated with the administration in the investigation of alleged embezzlements from the state rural credits board for which A. W. Ewert has been indicted. SOMETHING IS WRONG IN TEXAS, SAYS REP. IRVIN

MAY BE GRAFT, WASTE, EXTRAVAGANCE OR INCOMPETENCE

IRVIN ALSO COMMENTS ON PROPOSED SPECIAL SESSION

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 22.—(UP)—"There is one of four things wrong with Texas state affairs, graft, waste, extravagance or incompetence, it may be all of them," declared State Representative T. K. Irvin today, in an interview regarding calling of a special session for the purpose of investigating Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's pardon record and the state highway commission.

A petition for a special session was first issued by Representative A. H. King of Throckmorton, and yesterday Speaker Lee Satterthwaite of the Texas house of representatives, who is in Washington, issued a statement threatening to call the session.

Nine acts of clemency yesterday of Governor Ferguson raised the grand total of clemency acts performed to 951. Of this number 155 are full pardons and 404 are conditional.

Irvin said governmental affairs should be above suspicion. He asserted he did not object to former Governor James E. Ferguson advising Governor Ferguson except in cases where the former was interested financially.

Irvin objected to the governor's daughter having an alleged lien on the selling of state insurance.

Irvin was connected prominently with an investigation of state prison affairs a year ago.

MARSHES HOLD MYSTERY OF 3 RECENT MURDERS

MAY HAVE BEEN USED AS CEMETERY FOR VICTIMS MURDERED ELSEWHERE

SKULLS AND PARTS OF 3 BODIES THUS FAR FOUND IN NEWCASTLE SWAMP

By WILLIAM H. LANDER (United Press Staff Correspondent)
Newcastle, Pa., Oct. 22.—The marshes near West Pittsburgh today tenaciously held the mystery of three murders recently committed.

Whether the marsh was the scene of the ghastly crimes unearthed in the past 16 days or a cemetery for victims murdered elsewhere remains unknown. Skulls and parts of three bodies thus far have been found in the swamp.

The work of actual investigation is at a standstill. Authorities, baffled at every turn today have little more to work with than they did Sunday, when the search of the marsh was begun.

Thus defied by the nature of the vicinity, attempts to identify the three victims will continue but it has already developed that friction between County Attorney Dunlap and Sheriff Andrews existed over the "identification" of the first victim as that of W. W. Fletcher of Youngstown, a theory held by the sheriff's office for a few hours.

AGED BANKER FACES A LONG PRISON TERM

HENRY STENE, 63, CONVICTED OF EMBEZZLING BANK FUNDS

STENE'S STATEMENT TO COURT DENIED PERSONAL PROFIT BY FAILURE

Minneapolis, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Henry Stene, 63 year old Atwater banker, was taken to Willmar today where he must face state charges of embezzlement and misappropriation of funds. He was sentenced in federal court here yesterday to a 25-year prison term.

Federal Judge Joseph W. Molyneux who sentenced Stene, ordered that he be taken to Willmar. The state may impose sentence if Stene is found guilty to the additional charges but its execution must be delayed until the federal term is completed.

The first citizen of Kandiyohi county, whose embezzlements from the First National Bank of Atwater and the Farmers' State Bank at Kandiyohi totalled $386,000, was stopped and drawn from the ordeal of his trial.

Stene's statement, denying personal profit by failure of the two banks, was read to the court. Other witnesses told of the effect in Kandiyohi county. One told how Stene's own brother, an aged farmer, had been reduced to a state of poverty by the banker's defalcations.

The prison in which the 25-year sentence is to be served will probably be named this week.

Atwater, Minn., Oct. 22.—Official Atwater today was satisfied the 25-year prison sentence imposed on Henry Stene, former president of the First National Bank here, is just.

"Stene had the full confidence of the people but he betrayed it when he permitted their money to be used as it was," said John O. Knudson, chief of police.

"When we heard the sentence was 25 years imprisonment, the feeling was that it was just, but it had come about 10 years too late to save the people who lost their money in the banks."

S. M. Olson, the mayor, said Stene had ruined the town and the surrounding country with failure of the banks. Stene was a leading citizen of Atwater more than 20 years.

CHARRED MATERIAL MAY HAVE BEEN HUMAN BONES, STATED

Columbus, O., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Charred material that may have been human bones, was found today in ashes taken from the furnace of a school on the outskirts of Corning, O.

The discovery was made by C. F. Long, Columbus chemist, who began analysis of the ashes at the request of Corning authorities who believe a year old baby was cremated in the stove.

"The charred pieces appear to be the sediment of human bones, but a thorough chemical examination will be required to determine this definitely," Long told the United Press.

"The ashes were brought to Columbus after Mrs. Allison Linscott, janitress, found the school broken into and found a stifling odor, apparently that of burning flesh, filling the structure."

FEDERAL GRAND JURY IN CHICAGO TO HEAR EVIDENCE

FEDERAL INVESTIGATORS SAY 50 POLITICIANS ARE INVOLVED

CLAIM 8 BREWERIES IN MASSACHUSETTS, PENNSYLVANIA, AND NEW YORK SHIPPERS

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(UP)—A federal grand jury sitting in Chicago will be asked to indict five railroad companies for transportation of beer from eastern breweries to Chicago, federal investigators announced today.

James L. McDowell, special representative of the United States district attorney's office, and Clarence L. Converse, a representative of the internal revenue department, made the announcement. They refused to name the railroads, pending the presentation of evidence, but said at least 50 politicians in the east and in Chicago probably would be indicted jointly with the railroad companies.

According to the evidence, McDowell and Converse declared they have accumulated information beer was shipped from eight breweries in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New York to Chicago to buyers at the rate of 100 car loads a month.

There were 125 barrels in each car load and the wholesale price of the consignments (not the bootlegger price) was $65 a barrel.

Evidence has been found, Converse told the United Press, indicating that high officials of the railroads were involved in the transactions and promised the eastern breweries that the consignments would be given the right of way over the roads.

If the evidence collected is sufficient to bring indictments it will be the first time railroads have been directly or indirectly implicated in violation of the prohibition laws.

The evidence will be taken to the grand jury some time this week, Converse announced.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Because he is alleged to have run down a wild goose with his airplane Lieutenant Fred C. Nelson, army air service instructor faces arrest on a charge of "driving, killing and capturing a Canadian goose from and with the air an airplane."

One of the geese was struck by the propeller of the plane and fell to the ground. Nelson in attempting to land it alleged he wrecked his ship, it is alleged.

Citizens of Callaway county, who claim they saw the unusual goose hunt made the complaint.

The warrant was issued under a federal law which is a part of a game protection treaty between the United States and Canada. Nelson is stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas.

"She went to the hospital simply for a rest," McLaughlin said, but he remained at her bedside for nearly 13 hours.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Synthetic beef steaks may be the next achievement of science.

STENE'S STATEMENT TO COURT DENIED PERSONAL PROFIT BY FAILURE

Minneapolis, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Henry Stene, 63 year old Atwater banker, was taken to Willmar today where he must face state charges of embezzlement and misappropriation of funds. He was sentenced in federal court here yesterday to a 25-year prison term.

Federal Judge Joseph W. Molyneux who sentenced Stene, ordered that he be taken to Willmar. The state may impose sentence if Stene is found guilty to the additional charges but its execution must be delayed until the federal term is completed.

The first citizen of Kandiyohi county, whose embezzlements from the First National Bank of Atwater and the Farmers' State Bank at Kandiyohi totalled $386,000, was stopped and drawn from the ordeal of his trial.

Stene's statement, denying personal profit by failure of the two banks, was read to the court. Other witnesses told of the effect in Kandiyohi county. One told how Stene's own brother, an aged farmer, had been reduced to a state of poverty by the banker's defalcations.

The prison in which the 25-year sentence is to be served will probably be named this week.

Atwater, Minn., Oct. 22.—Official Atwater today was satisfied the 25-year prison sentence imposed on Henry Stene, former president of the First National Bank here, is just.

"Stene had the full confidence of the people but he betrayed it when he permitted their money to be used as it was," said John O. Knudson, chief of police.

"When we heard the sentence was 25 years' imprisonment, the feeling was that it was just, but it had come about 16 years too late to save the people who lost their money in the banks."

S. M. Olson, the mayor, said Stene had ruined the town and the surrounding country with failure of the banks. Stene was a leading citizen of Atwater more than 20 years.

CHARRED MATERIAL MAY HAVE BEEN HUMAN BONES, STATED

Columbus, O., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Charred material that may have been human bones, was found today in ashes taken from the furnace of a school on the outskirts of Corning, O.

The discovery was made by C. F. Long, Columbus chemist, who began analysis of the ashes at the request of Corning authorities who believe a year old baby was cremated in the stove.

"The charred pieces appear to be the sediment of human bones, but a thorough chemical examination will be required to determine this definitely," Long told the United Press.

"The ashes were brought to Columbus after Mrs. Allison Linscott, janitress, found the school broken into and found a stifling odor, apparently that of burning flesh, filling the structure."

FEDERAL GRAND JURY IN CHICAGO TO HEAR EVIDENCE

FEDERAL INVESTIGATORS SAY 50 POLITICIANS ARE INVOLVED

CLAIM 8 BREWERIES IN MASSACHUSETTS, PENNSYLVANIA, AND NEW YORK SHIPPERS

Chicago, Oct. 22.—(UP)—A federal grand jury sitting in Chicago will be asked to indict five railroad companies for transportation of beer from eastern breweries to Chicago, federal investigators announced today.

James L. McDowell, special representative of the United States district attorney's office, and Clarence L. Converse, a representative of the internal revenue department, made the announcement. They refused to name the railroads, pending the presentation of evidence, but said at least 50 politicians in the east and in Chicago probably would be indicted jointly with the railroad companies.

According to the evidence, McDowell and Converse declared they have accumulated information beer was shipped from eight breweries in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and New York to Chicago to buyers at the rate of 100 car loads a month.

There were 125 barrels in each car load and the wholesale price of the consignments (not the bootlegger price) was $65 a barrel.

Evidence has been found, Converse told the United Press, indicating that high officials of the railroads were involved in the transactions and promised the eastern breweries that the consignments would be given the right of way over the roads. If the evidence collected is sufficient to bring indictments it will be the first time railroads have been directly or indirectly implicated in violation of the prohibition laws.

The evidence will be taken to the grand jury some time this week, Converse announced.

YOUTHFUL WARD OF MILLIONAIRE IS ACCUSED OF CRIME

Waukegan, Ill., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Jack Durand, youthful ward of the multimillionaire Scott Durand family at Lake Forest, Ill., today was accused of assisting in the robbery of jewels from the daughter of F. Edison White, millionaire meat packer. The accusing finger was pointed by Franklin Patterson, 18, who already is under a 10 year sentence for the robbery. He testified for the state in Durand's trial and also accused James Miller, another 18 year old boy who is on trial with young Durand.

The robbery occurred at the White home last winter, the girl being stripped of her jewelry in one room while an entertainment was going on in another part of the palatial residence.

It was Miller who actually held up Hester White, Patterson said. Patterson testified that Durand told them he could not get enough money in Chicago and took the jewels to Detroit, his former home.

Later he came back and said he lost the necklace, Patterson said. Mr. and Mrs. Durand sat in court and listened to the testimony. They adopted Jack, 21, about two years ago.

Dunn Says:

LET'S see, it was JOSH BILLINGS, wasn't it, who SAID "There's a lot of THINGS said about the WEATHER but nothing is EVER done about it" and WE wonder what we folks WOULD do if the weather AS a topic of conversation WAS taken from us, AND we have an idea THAT a lot of us would FIND ourselves in bad SHAPE for want of SOMETHING to say,—but JUST the same, the WEATHER plays a big PART in our daily LIVES—for instance TAKE the cold weather we HAVE had the past ten DAYS and it naturally SUGGESTS that you need a HOT WATER bottle and THEN that thought suggests THE fact that we can SUPPLY a two year GUARANTEED one here at OUR store.

The Grebe "Colortone"

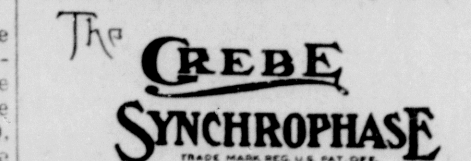

hushes annoying sounds and allows notes of voice and instrument to reach you in full natural tones

It enables you to alter to your taste the quality or timbre of speech or music from high, thin pitch to low, deep, round tones. This receiver, unlike others, is not at the mercy of the loud speaker. The "Colortone" also helps to subdue to a great degree, the scratching, hissing, whistling sounds that are usually the bane of radio reception.

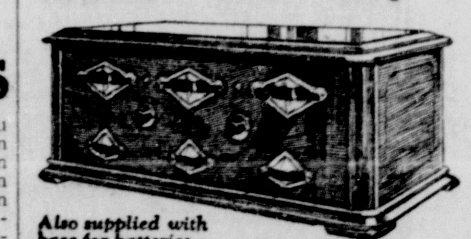

The "S's" and the "H's" are plainly audible; naturalness of sound replaces the artificiality which has heretofore interfered with radio enjoyment.

DIVORCED WIFE OF COL. MITCHELL IN COURT APPEAL

ASKS WISCONSIN COURT FOR INCREASE IN ALLOWANCE TO SUPPORT CHILDREN

WAS DIVORCED FROM COLONEL MITCHELL ON SEPTEMBER 27, 1922

Madison, Wis., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Mrs. Caroline Mitchell, divorced wife of Colonel William Mitchell, stormy petrel of the air service who is in Washington awaiting court martial on charges of insubordination, today asked the Wisconsin supreme court for an increase in the allowance for the support of their children.

Upon granting of a divorce to Mrs. Mitchell from Colonel Mitchell on September 27, 1922, the court awarded her the custody of the three children and directed an allowance of $400 a month for their support.

The case, as presented to the supreme court here declares the Colonel's income has materially increased, while that of his former wife has decreased.

Mrs. Mitchell is asking for an additional allowance of $2,000 a year for the support of the three children, Elizabeth, 18, Harriet, 14, and John, four.

The lower court some time ago passed favorably on granting the additional allowance and the present issue is whether the evidence is sufficient to warrant the supreme court in granting the allowance asked. The appeal was made to the high court on the grounds that the lower court erred in not hearing Colonel Mitchell's application for a revision of the divorce decree so that he might be given the care and maintenance of his own children at his own expense.

IF YOU COULD SEE THE HEAT IN COAL

You would realize at once that a load of STANDARD COAL contains a full measure of heat and a load of ordinary unprepared coal only a short measure of heat.

The difference in heat value is due to the low ash content of STANDARD COAL and to the careful, systematic way in which STANDARD COAL is mined and cleaned, so that no visible, non-combustible impurities and wastes are shipped.

Freight charges are the same on STANDARD COAL as on the ordinary, unprepared, dirty coal. Delivered heat value alone counts. For a full measure of heat, use STANDARD COAL.

IF YOU COULD SEE THE HEAT IN COAL

You would realize at once that a load of STANDARD COAL contains a full measure of heat and a load of ordinary unprepared coal only a short measure of heat.

The difference in heat value is due to the low ash content of STANDARD COAL and to the careful, systematic way in which STANDARD COAL is mined and cleaned, so that no visible, non-combustible impurities and wastes are shipped.

Freight charges are the same on STANDARD COAL as on the ordinary, unprepared, dirty coal. Delivered heat value alone counts. For a full measure of heat, use STANDARD COAL.

400 TEETH IN EACH JAW

You remember seeing the film play, "The Lost World" at the New Park? And the dinosaur that was constantly chewing something and working his jaws as through masticating a huge consignment of gum.

Dentists could take up the blacksmith trade if we humans were blessed with the dental arrangement Mother Nature installed in this trachodon, one of the dinosaur stars in "The Lost World."

This trachodon had 400 teeth in each jaw. When the front row were out, another row simply moved forward into the line of action. No dental chair for trachodon.

There was a reason for that number of teeth. Trachodon had the bulk of half a dozen elephants, but a head no larger than that of a present day horse. In order to support so large a body with such a small head, he had to use his teeth practically from sunrise to sunset, scientists believe.

RECORDS REQUIRE CONSTANT ATTENTION

WHEN it comes to bragging about attendance records, some of our luncheon clubs are like a set of old tires. There is an unwritten rule among motorists never to brag about your tires when in hearing distance of them. Just as sure as cold weather in Minnesota winters, the aforesaid tires will blow up when they hear you brag about their mileage.

The other day one of the luncheon clubs was "sitting pretty" with the highest attendance record for three consecutive meetings, not only locally but throughout the district. Of course, everybody bragged about it.

But next week, what happened? There were ten absentees.

CHARLES B. CHENEY, well known political writer of the Minneapolis Journal, was sent to Stearns county to write up the agricultural conditions. He has contributed three very laudable articles. We would beg to remind Charlie, however, that there are other counties besides Stearns and that agriculture and its various phases of besides farming are "looking up" in Crow Wing county too. We advise Charlie not to squander all his superlatives and adjectives on Stearns, but save some for the other counties too.

BAR POLITICS IN TAX HEARINGS OF COMMITTEE

HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE HAS TILT WITH IOWA TAX CLUB

NEW SCHEDULE OF NORMAL INCOME TAX RATES SENT OUT BY MELLON

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 22.—Following a series of political tilts with members of the Iowa Tax club, the house ways and means committee today ordered politics barred from discussion at its hearings and instructed future witnesses to confine themselves exclusively to taxes.

Representative Oldfield, democrat, Arkansas, raised the question when the committee met for its fourth hearing on the new $300,000,000 tax reduction bill and asked that no more political arguments be indulged in.

"Political discussion is not in order before the committee," Chairman Green, republican, Iowa, ruled.

"I believe all members of the committee, however, encourage and join with the members of the Iowa Tax club in their discussions yesterday," Green said.

The Iowans had praised the Mellon plan and claimed that the people of their state had sanctioned completely the Coolidge administration by giving the present executive a 100,000 vote plurality in the last election.

Several speakers denounced communism and referred to the opponents of the Mellon plan as communists. V. R. B. Lowden, Lowden Machinery Company, Fairfield, Ia., today asked reduction of the present 12½ per cent capital stock tax to 6 or 8 per cent. He endorsed the proposal to combine the capital stock with the corporation tax.

A new schedule of normal income tax rates, slashing about 25 per cent from the present schedule, was sent out in a letter Secretary of the Treasury Mellon forwarded to Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee.

The new schedule would provide an income tax of one per cent on $3,000, two per cent on the next $1,000, three per cent on the next $4,000 and five per cent thereafter.

This compares with the original Mellon suggestion of one per cent on $2,000, three per cent on the next $4,000 and five per cent thereafter.

Explaining that the newly suggested rates were "more satisfactory and would produce the same revenues to the government as the previous suggestion," Mellon nevertheless studiously refrained from advancing them as his own proposal, "a Mellon plan."

The proposed new rates, he said, were recommended by the actuary of the treasury department and provide a more equal distribution of his suggested 25 per cent reduction all along the line.

"I believe this 25 per cent normal tax reduction can be made without the slightest danger to future revenues," Mellon said.

Mellon cited his previous statement to the committee that "the treasury department does not propose any definite rates, but it presents to you the certainty that tax reform can go to a 25 per cent maximum and normal surtax without the slightest danger to our future revenue."

"Your committee will work out its own specific rates within such limits as the committee may determine and the actuary's rates are used solely for suggesting a restriction within the limits proposed by me."

"Not that the actuary's schedules of rates represent definite treasury proposals."

"I am writing you to assure you the treasury has made no change in the position taken in the statement above cited and does not wish to be understood to be proposing definite rates of taxes."

The following table was compiled by actuary of the treasury department to show what income tax a married man without dependents would pay under the present law and under the proposed Mellon plan:

Income	Present Tax	Mellon Suggestion	Second Mellon Suggestion
$2,000
$3,000	$7.50	$5.00	$5.00
$4,000	22.50	15.00	15.00
$5,000	37.50	25.00	25.00
$6,000	52.50	35.00	35.00
$7,000	67.50	45.00	45.00
$8,000	82.50	55.00	55.00
$9,000	97.50	65.00	65.00
$10,000	112.50	75.00	75.00
$11,000	127.50	85.00	85.00
$12,000	142.50	95.00	95.00
$13,000	157.50	105.00	105.00
$14,000	172.50	115.00	115.00
$15,000	187.50	125.00	125.00

Officials of the treasury said that either of the proposed rates would cut revenues on the normal income tax about $40,000,000 a year and surtax receipts about $100,000,000 annually.

R. Baar, Chicago City club, petitioned the committee for exemption for life and non-profit making organizations.

Exemption for mutual life insurance companies was sought by Harry F. Groes, Des Moines.

Thomas B. Patton, counsel for the American Bankers' Association, asked repeal of the capital stocks tax and the lowering of the corporation tax from 12½ to 10 per cent.

THE ALBERT TREICHLER BARN

This 32x50 general purpose barn was built this summer and is now in use. Mr. Treichler, the owner, planned it with great care not only as to size, type and floor arrangement but also as to kind of construction and materials used. It is built to last and to save its owner work and money.

The stone foundation is carefully laid and the concrete floor will make the chores much easier.

The drop siding walls and ends, and the red-cedar shingles were selected for permanence. Notice the number of windows—Mr. Treichler intends to have plenty of light.

This is the type of barn that will make Brainerd farms more prosperous as years go on. We have lots more of the materials necessary to build good barns and we can help you fit plans to your ideas and stock if you wish.

Remember a barn like the above pays for itself quickly—it's a great cost-cutter, and there's time to build one on your farm yet this year.

THIS IS THE KIND OF BARN THAT OUR BRAINERD FARMERS ARE BUILDING

THE ALBERT TREICHLER BARN

This 32x50 general purpose barn was built this summer and is now in use. Mr. Treichler, the owner, planned it with great care not only as to size, type and floor arrangement but also as to kind of construction and materials used. It is built to last and to save its owner work and money.

The stone foundation is carefully laid and the concrete floor will make the chores much easier.

The drop siding walls and ends, and the red-cedar shingles were selected for permanence. Notice the number of windows—Mr. Treichler intends to have plenty of light.

This is the type of barn that will make Brainerd farms more prosperous as years go on. We have lots more of the materials necessary to build good barns and we can help you fit plans to your ideas and stock if you wish.

Remember a barn like the above pays for itself quickly—it's a great cost-cutter, and there's time to build one on your farm yet this year.

With eyes of terror Sam Kirby scanned the boiling expanse through which the barge was drifting, but nowhere could he catch sight of Danny Royal. He turned to shout to his pilot, only to discover that he also was missing and that the steering-sweep was smashed.

"God! He's gone!" cried the old man. It was true; that inundation succeeding the mishap had swept the after-deck clean, and now the scow was not only rudderless, but it lacked a man of experience to direct its course.

Roulette Kirby was tugging at her father's arm. She lifted a white, horrified face to his and exclaimed: "Danny! I saw him—go!"

Her father's dead face was switching; he nodded silently. Then he pointed at the catamaran toward which they were being carried. He opened his lips to say something, but one of the crew came running back, shouting hoarsely and waving his arms.

"We're going over," the fellow clamored. "We'll all be drowned!" Kirby felled him with a blow from his artificial hand; then, when the man scrambled to his feet, his employer ordered:

"Get busy! Do what you can!" For himself, he took Royal's sweep and struggled with it. But he was woefully ignorant of how to apply his strength and had only the faintest idea what he ought to do.

Meanwhile the thunder of the White Horse steadily increased. Having brought the last of the Courteau boats through the canon, "Poleon Doret piloted the little flotilla across to the town of White Horse and there collected his money, while Pierce Phillips and the other men pitched camp.

The labor of making things comfortable for the night did not prevent Lucky Broad from discussing at some length the exciting incidents of the afternoon.

"I hope her Highness got an eyeful of me shooting the chutes," said he, "for that's my farewell trip—positively my last appearance in any water act."

"Mighty decent of you and the Kid to volunteer," Pierce told him.

"It sure was," the other agreed. "Takes a couple daredevils like him and me to pull that kind of a bone-head play."

Mr. Bridges who was within hearing distance, shrugged with an assumption of careless indifference. "It takes more 'n a little lather to scare me," he boasted. "I'm a divin' Venus and I ate it up!"

"You—har!" Lucky cried. "Why, every quill on your head was standing up and you look five years older 'n you did this morning! You heard the undertaker shaking out your shroud all the way down—you know you did. I never seen a man as scared as you was!" When Bridges accepted the accusation with a grin, the speaker ran on, in a less resentful tone: "I don't mind saying it, hardened my arteries some. It made me think of all my sins and follies; I remembered all the bets I'd over-looked. Recollect that pioneer we laid for four hundred at Dyea?"

The Kid nodded. "Sure! I remember him easy. He squawked so loud you gave him back half of it." "And all the time he had a thousand sewed in his shirt! Wasted opportunities like that lay heavy on a man when he hears the angels tuning up and smells the calla-lilies." Bridges agreed in all seriousness, and went on to say: "Lucky, if I gotta get out of this country the way I got into it I'm going to let you bury me in Dawson. Look at them rapids ahead of us! Why, the guy that laid out this river was off his nut!"

"You're talking sense. We'll stick till they build a railroad up to us or else we'll let 'em pin a pair of soft-pine overcoats on the two of us. The idea of us calling ourselves wise-acs and doing circus stunts like this! We're suckers! We'll be working in the mines next. I bet I'll see you poulticed onto a pick-handle before we get out."

"Not me! I've raised my last blister, and if ever I get another callous it'll be from layin' abed. Safe and sane, that's me. I—"

Bridges words were cut short by an exclamation from Doret, who had approached, in company with the Countess Courteau.

"Hailo!" the French Canadian broke in. "Dere comes dat beeg barge."

Out from the lower end of the gorge the Kirby craft had emerged; it was plunging along with explosions of white foam from beneath its bows and with its sweeps rising and falling rhythmically. To Doret's companions it seemed that the scow had come through handily enough and was in little further danger, but "Poleon, for some reason or other, had blazed into excitement. Down the bank he leaped; then he raised his voice and sent forth a loud cry. It was wasted effort, for it failed to carry. Nevertheless, the warning note in his voice brought his hearers running after him.

"What's the matter?" Pierce inquired.

The pilot paid no heed; he began waving his cap in long sweeps, cursing meanwhile in a patois which the others could not understand.

Even while they stared at the Roulette she drove head on into an expanse of tumbling breakers, then—the onlookers could not believe their eyes—she stopped dead still, as if she had come to the end of a steel cable or as if she had collided with an invisible wall. Instantly her entire after part was smothered in white. Slowly her bow rose out of the chaos until perhaps ten feet of her bottom was exposed, then she assumed a list.

The Countess uttered a strangled exclamation. "Oh-h! Did you see? There's a man overboard!"

Her eyes were quick, but others, too, had beheld a dark bundle picked up by some mysterious agency and flung end over end into the waves. The Roulette's deck-load was dissolving; a moment or two and she turned completely around, then drifted free.

"Why—they brought the girl along!" cried the Countess, in growing dismay. "Sam Kirby ought to be hung!"

From the tents and boats along the bank, from the village above, people were assembling hurriedly, a babel of oaths, of shouts arose.

"Poleon found his recent employer plucking at his sleeve. 'There's a woman out there—Kirby's girl,' she was crying. 'Can't you do something?'"

"Wait!" He flung off her grasp and watched intently.

RUMORS AS TO SUCCESSOR OF SENATOR LADD

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 22.—(UP)—Governor A. G. Sorlie has not yet decided whether a successor will be appointed to the late Senator E. F. Ladd, he announced today.

"The senate is not suffering for want of a second representative from North Dakota," the governor said. "I may announce an appointment before December and I may not. I am not prepared to make a definite statement."

Former Governor R. A. Nestos so far is the only prominent candidate for Senator Ladd's toga. He made a statement last August he would enter the contest "if conditions are propitious."

RED GRANGE LOOMS AS PREMIER ATHLETE

PLAYING WITH A LOSING TEAM MAY ADD MORE LUSTRE

IN SATURDAY'S GAMES TWO CONTENDERS SEEK RED'S CROWN

NICK KUTSCH, FLYING DUTCHMAN, AND FRIEDMAN OF MICHIGAN

By EDWARD C. DERR
United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Oct. 22.—It is a tough job to knock the crown off any man's head and when the 1925 football season is over Red Grange probably still will be recognized as the gridiron's premier athlete.

The fact that he is playing with a losing team may dim the lustre of his crown or it may add to its brilliance.

But until some other player does some of the things Red has done Grange will still be king.

In Saturday's games in the middle-west, however, two great backfield stars will attempt to unseat Grange and engrave their own names at the top of the list. They are Nick Kutsch, Iowa's "Flying Dutchman," and Benny Friedman, Michigan's backfield ace.

Kutsch's best claim to Red's crown is the fact that he leads the Big Ten conference for individual points. Added to this is the fact that he led Iowa to victory over Illinois last week. He is a marvelous kicker and a cyclone when running on an open field.

In Saturday's game against Ohio State he is expected to show more of his brilliance.

Friedman is undoubtedly one of the greatest backfield men in the west. His brilliant passing and his ability as a broken field runner stamp him as more than an ordinary star. He was mainly responsible for the two Michigan touchdowns in the first 10 minutes of play against Wisconsin last Saturday. This week end his mettle will be tested against Grange himself and he may outshine his distinguished rival in this game.

It is against these two, Kutsch and Friedman, that Grange must defend his laurels for the present season.

Grange, so far, has been the victim of two things, an excess of notoriety and a line that cannot hold. Every team that meets Illinois is coached to stop Grange and the average player finds more satisfaction in throwing Red Grange for a loss than in scoring a touchdown himself. The Illinois team obviously is mediocre. Without Red it would be certain to finish far down in the Big Ten rating. It gives him fair interference in returning kicks but from scrimmage formation Red must find his way alone.

Considering these handicaps the fact that Red has been able to gain at all is noteworthy, that he was able to make a brilliant 80 yard run to a touchdown against Iowa is nothing short of miraculous.

The ancient Egyptians divided the time of light and the time of darkness, that is, night and day, into twelve parts, or hours, each. The system spread throughout several adjacent countries.

It followed that in summer, when the period of light is longer than the period of darkness, the hours of the day were longer than those of the night, as each period was divided into twelve parts.

ALONG THE SIDE LINES

Champaign, Ill.—The Illini is concentrating on defense in this week's preparation. The reappearance of Chuck Brown, last year's tackle, has put new life into the team. Pug Daugherty is still resting but he is certain to be in the Michigan game Saturday.

Iowa City, Ia.—Coach Ingwersen is polishing up reserve backs for Saturday's game with Ohio. Two full teams leave this afternoon for Columbus in good shape for the game.

Madison, Wis.—New faces have appeared in the Wisconsin line. Outside of scrimmage, the practices this week consist mainly of passing for the backfield and defensive work for the line.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Coach Yost is concentrating on a defense to stop Red Grange of Illinois Saturday. Every play that has helped to make Red famous is being analyzed and the Michigan team is confident of stopping him.

Chicago—Coach Stagg has picked his team and 27 men leave here today to do battle with Pennsylvania Saturday. The last Chicago workout consisted mostly of kicking practice on both punts and point makers.

Evanston, Ill.—A passing game is being perfected by Northwestern to be used against Tulane Saturday. Barring Moon Baker, every Wildcat will be in the game. Benny Froelich, who was kicked in the head Monday, is recovering rapidly and will play Saturday.

Minneapolis.—Doc Spears is switching his varsity about for the Notre Dame game. He is not satisfied with the defense. The coach as yet is showing no preference for players but is using every available man.

Columbus, O.—Ohio is concentrating on a passing attack. Marek and Bell are doing most of the work with Cunningham coming in occasionally with one of his 40 yard shots. The team will be in good shape for the Iowa game Saturday.

La Fayette, Ind.—Purdue's hopes in the Wisconsin game have received a severe setback with the injuring in scrimmage of Dode Gladders, full-back, and Don Cunningham, guard. Korasky and Deephouse have taken their places. The team leaves today for Madison.

South Bend, Ind.—The freshmen using Minnesota plays have managed to chalk up consistent gains against Rockne's team and there seems little to base high hopes of victory on. But the team is confident and hundreds of students will accompany it to Minneapolis.

Bloomington, Ind.—Perfection of its own grid plays is the order at Indiana and no attempt is being made to teach the team Miami plays. Practice is being lengthened by the use of four large floodlights.

Cambridge, Mass.—"Harvard is going into the Dartmouth game with plenty of confidence," Coach Bob Fisher said today. With the exception of Cheek and Saltonsall, the regular team will start.

New Haven—Yale will go through a final workout for the Brown game today and will leave tomorrow morning for Providence where the squad will engage in a final signal drill in the new stadium.

New York—After a final signal practice, the Fordham football squad, including 27 players, will leave tonight for Akron to play the University of Akron, Saturday.

Hanover, N. Y.—Thirty-five players in the Dartmouth football squad will leave late this afternoon after a light workout for Boston to get in the final preparation for the Harvard game Saturday.

ROCKNE'S SECOND TEAM TRICK IMITATED

By PAUL WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Oct. 22.—Knute Rockne's trick of tossing his second team into each gridiron battle at the beginning and then rushing his regulars to the scene as soon as the second period gets under way, is finding plenty of imitators as the football season progresses.

Numerous coaches in the east and middle west have attempted, in some measure at least, this estimable plan. The larger universities, of course, are the only ones with which it has worked at all successfully since the smaller schools have not in most cases the reserve power necessary for its perpetration.

But according to Coach Charles Crowley of Columbia University, the plan will not be adopted permanently by very many athletic mentors. In the early season against teams which are merely testing machines, coaches like to give their regulars a chance to limber up and send them in against the opponents while the latter are still fresh and able to give their best fighting. In the later games coaches will find Rockne's stunt too risky. The value of the first score is as high in football as in any other sport and few elevens will let their opponents tally first unless they can avoid it.

Crowley also is opposed to the classification "first" and "second" teams. He believes it in the interest of football to work every member of his squad as often as possible and not to build up two machines of 11 parts each.

"Troubles of coaches would be diminished 50 per cent," he says, "if they wouldn't try to make 11 men a unit. One part is continually breaking down and that means the training of a substitute. The best plan is to train the whole squad in the art of football and let each player have a shot at his position during every game."

To test this theory, Crowley used almost 35 men in the first three games which Columbia played this season. And during the 155 minutes of play, Columbia scored 170 points. The opponents, of course, were mediocre, but Crowley at least had the satisfaction of knowing that he had more than two men with enough experience to jump into each position on the team.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER PRIZE NAMED DECEMBER

PRIZE OF $1,000 ATTACHES TO NATIONAL LEAGUE HONOR

WILL GIVE BASEBALL WRITERS PLENTY OF TIME TO CONSIDER MERITS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

New York, Oct. 22.—Announcement of the winner of the National league's $1,000 prize for the most valuable player will not be made until the annual league meeting in December, according to President John A. Heydler.

It is the policy of the league to give the baseball writers appointed on the selection committee plenty of time to consider the merits of each player and what they meant to their teams.

Baseball men believe that the American league made a mistake in announcing that Roger Peckinpaugh, the Washington shortstop, had won the honor in the American league before the pennant season closed.

Peck, beyond all doubt, deserved the honor for his playing during the regular season, but he was the big goat of the world's series with a record for errors and many believe that it was the burden of trying to live up to his reputation that caused him to collapse against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

There is no way of telling, of course, what player in the National league will be awarded the prize but a lot of speculation was heard during the world's series.

Rogers Hornsby, brilliant manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is sure to be one of the leading candidates as managers are eligible for the prize in the National league. He led the league in batting and home run hitting and landed his team in the first division after a poor start.

Pittsburgh fans figure that Hazen Cuyler, the brilliant young Pirate outfielder, has no rival for the nomination. If the Giants had won the pennant George Kelly, the greatest all around star in baseball, might have been elected unanimously and he is yet one of the outstanding candidates.

RED GRANGE LOOMS AS PREMIER ATHLETE

PLAYING WITH A LOSING TEAM MAY ADD MORE LUSTRE

IN SATURDAY'S GAMES TWO CONTENDERS SEEK RED'S CROWN

NICK KUTSCH, FLYING DUTCHMAN, AND FRIEDMAN OF MICHIGAN

By EDWARD C. DERR United Press Staff Correspondent Chicago, Oct. 22.—It is a tough job to knock the crown off any man's head and when the 1925 football season is over Red Grange probably still will be recognized as the gridiron's premier athlete.

The fact that he is playing with a losing team may dim the lustre of his crown or it may add to its brilliance.

But until some other player does some of the things Red has done Grange will still be king.

In Saturday's games in the middle-west, however, two great backfield stars will attempt to unseat Grange and engrave their own names at the top of the list. They are Nick Kutsch, Iowa's "Flying Dutchman," and Benny Friedman, Michigan's backfield ace.

IN POSTAL SERVICE OVER 30 YEARS

William H. Everest, Popular Rural Carrier, Completes Long Period With Uncle Sam

IS RETIRED ON A PENSION

Takes Much Satisfaction And Pride in the Record He Has Made

William H. Everest, well known and popular rural mail carrier out of Brainerd, has completed his service with Uncle Sam and has been retired on a pension, having reached the age limit of postal employees, and been in the postal service of the government for over 30 years.

Mr. Everest takes much satisfaction and pride in the record he has made and in the complimentary letter he has just received from H. H. Billany, fourth assistant postmaster general, which is as follows:

"I have before me your request for retirement as rural carrier at Brainerd, Minnesota. I note that you were appointed to the service on December 1st, 1905, and have served continuously since that time for almost twenty years.

"The efficient and faithful service rendered day after day by men of your type has developed the postal service into an activity upon which the public can depend utterly, and enables this service to continue as a great human enterprise. I congratulate you for having had a part in this great work and for having performed your duties well.

"At this time of the relinquishment of your duties as rural carrier I sincerely trust that in addition to the personal satisfaction which must be yours as you look back over the years of faithful service, you will find new and interesting experiences which will pleasantly occupy the leisure which you have justly earned. The Department appreciates your accomplishments and I consider it a duty and a privilege to approve your request for retirement."

Previous to his 20 years as rural carrier out of Brainerd, Mr. Everest was postmaster at the village of Crow Wing for 10 years. Of the 20 years in Brainerd, 15 years were spent as carrier on rural route No. 3, serving the South Long lake territory, and 5 years on Route No. 4, west of the city in the vicinity of Gull river.

Mr. Everest claims the distinction of being the first rural carrier working out of Brainerd. He drove rural No. 1 when it was started, as a temporary carrier in June, 1905, and in August of the same year was temporary carrier on Route No. 2. He received his appointment as a regular carrier on December 1st, 1905.

There have been many changes in the work as well as in the communities served during the past 20 years. The service, too, has undergone many changes, and improvements. Until the last year and a half Mr. Everest made his route with a team of horses. Since that time an automobile has been used.

His route has averaged about 30 miles in length, which has been made six days per week, throughout the 20 years of service. Those of a mathematical turn of mind will be interested in computing the mileage that has been thus covered, and will be somewhat surprised at the results their figures show.

Mr. Everest is not retired because of any inability of old age, but because of the age limit set by the department. He is still hale and hearty, and would no doubt be able to render many years of excellent service to Uncle Sam, and to the patrons of his route, who learn of his retirement with sincere regret.

His son, C. S. Everest, has succeeded as temporary carrier on Route No. 4. Permanent carrier has not as yet been announced.

SPECIAL SESSION OF TEXAS LEGISLATURE "UP IN THE AIR"

Austin, Tex., Oct. 22.—(UP)—The question of whether a special session of the Texas legislature would be called to investigate alleged irregularities in the conduct of state offices was as much in the air as ever today as the Travis county grand jury resumed its inquiry into state highway matters.

Upon the outcome of the jury's investigation may depend the calling of a special session which Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has denounced as a waste of the taxpayers' money.

Those in favor of a special session were said to be anxious to call the legislature to look into reports and rumors of alleged mismanagement of state affairs, which involve among other things, letting of road contracts by Governor Ferguson.

MRS. OTTO LUNDBERG HAS PASSED AWAY

Shedums to Heart Trouble Thursday Morning After Months of Illness

RESIDED IN CITY 37 YEARS

Was Especially Interested in Everything Tending to Betterment of City

Mrs. Otto Lundberg passed away at her home, 605 Second avenue, Northeast, at 3 o'clock this Thursday morning, death being caused from heart trouble.

Johanna Nellie Nelson was born in Denmark, March 7th, 1876, and came to Brainerd in 1888 where she grew to womanhood and where she has since made her home.

She was united in marriage to Otto Lundberg on June 2nd, 1896. Two children were born to this union, Mrs. Gust T. Lind, of Brainerd, and Edward H. Lundberg, of Boise, Idaho. Beside her husband and children she leaves to mourn her loss her father, Andrew Nelson, two brothers, Nels P. and Carl Nelson, of Maple Grove township, and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Lundberg was a loving wife and mother, and an excellent neighbor. She was of a charitable disposition and took much pride in her home in the community in which she lived. She was especially interested in everything that stood for the betterment of the city.

She was a patient sufferer who has been seriously ill since July. The end came this morning very peacefully, completing a life of service to her family and friends. She attended the Peoples Congregational church of Northeast Brainerd, and was a member of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Homestead No. 602, of Brainerd.

Funeral arrangements will be announced as soon as word has been received from relatives. The Dispatch joins with the many friends and neighbors in offering sympathy to the bereaved family.

NIGHT SCHOOL FOR CITY ALIENS

Started at High School And Will Continue During the Winter

CLASSES 2 NIGHTS WEEKLY

Conducted by the Misses Clara E. Hjerpe and Milena Vanasek

Night school for alien residents of this city who expect to become citizens of the United States started last week at the high school, and will continue throughout the winter, the classes being held on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week.

The Misses Clara E. Hjerpe and Milena Vanasek are the instructors in charge of the night school. These teachers conducted the evening classes last year, and were most successful in this work. A large class was graduated, passing the government examinations, and its members were given their citizenship papers at the May term of the district court.

There are now 21 enrolled in the night school, and all are very much interested in the work. However, it is felt by the instructors that there are a great many more who should be interested in the benefits to be derived by attending the sessions, men and women who have not received their citizenship and who will have difficulty in obtaining their final papers unless they are assisted by the instruction given in the night school. The request is made that friends of these people talk to them about the matter, making an effort to persuade them to attend and pointing out the advantages of such attendance.

Classes are held both for beginners and for more advanced pupils. The subjects taught include reading, writing, spelling and citizenship, and those who complete the course and pass the final tests are eligible to receive their final papers and become citizens of this country.

Local citizens who are interested in the work of the night school, are invited to visit the classes on any Tuesday or Thursday evening, and if possible, to bring their friends who are not as yet citizens, but who should be interested in securing their papers.

IN POSTAL SERVICE OVER 30 YEARS

William H. Everest, Popular Rural Carrier, Completes Long Period With Uncle Sam

IS RETIRED ON A PENSION

Takes Much Satisfaction And Pride in the Record He Has Made

William H. Everest, well known and popular rural mail carrier out of Brainerd, has completed his service with Uncle Sam and has been retired on a pension, having reached the age limit of postal employees, and been in the postal service of the government for over 30 years.

Mr. Everest takes much satisfaction and pride in the record he has made and in the complimentary letter he has just received from H. H. Billany, fourth assistant postmaster general, which is as follows:

"I have before me your request for retirement as rural carrier at Brainerd, Minnesota. I note that you were appointed to the service on December 1st, 1905, and have served continuously since that time for almost twenty years.

"The efficient and faithful service rendered day after day by men of your type has developed the postal service into an activity upon which the public can depend utterly, and enables this service to continue as a great human enterprise. I congratulate you for having had a part in this great work and for having performed your duties well.

"At this time of the relinquishment of your duties as rural carrier I sincerely trust that in addition to the personal satisfaction which must be yours as you look back over the years of faithful service, you will find new and interesting experiences which will pleasantly occupy the leisure which you have justly earned. The department appreciates your accomplishments and I consider it a duty and a privilege to approve your request for retirement."

Previous to his 20 years as rural carrier out of Brainerd, Mr. Everest was postmaster at the village of Crow Wing for 10 years. Of the 20 years in Brainerd, 15 years were spent as carrier on rural route No. 3, serving the South Long lake territory, and 5 years on Route No. 4, west of the city in the vicinity of Gull river.

Mr. Everest claims the distinction of being the first rural carrier working out of Brainerd. He drove rural No. 1 when it was started, as a temporary carrier in June, 1905, and in August of the same year was temporary carrier on Route No. 2. He received his appointment as a regular carrier on December 1st, 1905.

There have been many changes in the work as well as in the communities served during the past 20 years. The service, too, has undergone many changes, and improvements. Until the last year and a half Mr. Everest made his route with a team of horses. Since that time an automobile has been used.

His route has averaged about 30 miles in length, which has been made six days per week, throughout the 20 years of service. Those of a mathematical turn of mind will be interested in computing the mileage that has been thus covered, and will be somewhat surprised at the results their figures show.

Mr. Everest is not retired because of any infirmities of old age, but because of the age limit set by the department. He is still hale and hearty, and would no doubt be able to render many years of excellent service to Uncle Sam, and to the patrons of his route, who learn of his retirement with sincere regret.

His son, C. S. Everest, has succeeded as temporary carrier on Route No. 4. Permanent carrier has not as yet been announced.

CONDUCT OF RAID BROUGHT DISFAVOR

MANY IMPORTANT EXHIBITS MISSING IN SAMMY TERRIN CASE

St. Paul, Oct. 22.—(UP)—Conduct of the raid in which Sammy Terrin, St. Paul pugilist, was arrested, brought the disfavor of the court in which the case went to trial yesterday.

Introduction of evidence showed that many important exhibits were missing. Only one bottle containing liquor seized could be produced and all but the envelope of a letter said to have contained a liquor order was gone.

Judge H. O. Hanft reprimanded the federal agents for their conduct of the case indirectly when he ordered a subpoena issued for the private secretary of one of the agents to testify concerning loss of the letter.

Failure to arrest a man said to have been in the building with Terrin at the time of the raid also complicated prosecution. County and federal officers testified to conditions found at Terrin's alleged liquor plant.

Terrin was found not guilty of violating liquor laws by a jury that deliberated 20 minutes here today.

Charges against Terrin resulted from a raid in which he was arrested at an alleged moonshine plant. Much of the evidence supposedly gathered in the raid was found to be missing when the case went to trial yesterday.

Terrin has run afoul of the liquor laws previously but has never served a prison sentence.

Conditions in the money market were still extremely comfortable, the vigor of buying movement in various departments showed that the public appetite for stocks was as keen as ever. You probably know that Cod Liver Oil is the greatest flesh producer in the world.

Because it contains more Vitamins than any food you can get.

You'll be glad to know that Cod Liver Oil comes in sugar coated tablets now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong ask H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days. "Get McCoy's, the original and Genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet."

A complete newspaper

Princes, war, conventions, the excitements of Europe, football victories, the counting up of votes, church affairs, community weddings—everything eventful. Yet the newspaper is incomplete without the news that concerns you most.

Events belong to unusual days. But day after day you get out of bed, wear clothes, eat foods, walk in shoes. News of better mattresses for your bed, of better clothes, food, shoes, at prices you like . . . is of more moment to you than the overthrow of kings. Things of daily importance are talked about in advertisements. Shaving sticks, tooth pastes, cuff links, breakfast foods. Here is friendly, intimate news to make your days more pleasant. News of things you know about and might like to know more. Conveniences you once thought could never be yours.

Advertisements are the news of every-day things that concern you most. No newspaper would be complete without them.

Advertisements are frequently the most interesting news in the paper. Read them.
